COPAS-COLORADO NEWS

♦ February 2018 ♦ Volume 2017 – 2018 No. 6 ♦

---

Happy February, COPAS-Colorado Members!

I hope your year has started off well. Our February luncheon has already passed and was a great success. Kathleen Sgamma from Western Energy Alliance gave an interesting talk on the Oil and Gas Industry after a year under the Trump administration. Our next luncheon is on Thursday, March 15 and will feature a presentation by an economist from Wells Fargo. We'll open registration on Monday, February 26th, so please be on the lookout for the email. You can find more information on our next luncheon's topic, as well as the technical session further in the newsletter.

Speaking of the newsletter, please keep in mind that you can find details on upcoming committee sessions within this newsletter. Each of our committees meets monthly and provides an opportunity for their members to participate in a training, forum, or conversation in alignment with their theme. Please take a moment to review the upcoming topics to see if any of them are interesting to you. If you are interested in a particular meeting and you aren't currently receiving their meeting invitations, you can find the contact information for the co-chairs along the left-hand side of the relevant sections on pages 3-5 of this newsletter. Feel free to reach out to the co-chairs and ask to be added to their meeting invites and future communications. The committee meetings are an important benefit to our membership -- please take advantage of them!

Remember that COPAS-Colorado offers small scholarship grants to full time students who are interested in pursuing a career in oil and gas accounting. If you know someone who fits this criteria, please have them contact info@copascalorado.org, and we will send them more details.

I'll see everyone at the next luncheon!

Meghan Hendershot
2017-2018 COPAS-Colorado President
